Okta & INSOURCE
A Partnership Built on Security

In the 21st Century there is perhaps no greater concern for businesses than security. Through our partnerships with Okta and ServiceNow, InSource is able to deliver world-class identity management and onboarding/offboarding solutions.

Through their unique, cloud-based identity management capabilities, Okta's service will equip your employees with a secure single user log-on, providing both efficiency as well as the highest level of cloud-based security. Okta's onboarding/offboarding service with provisioning capabilities ensures that your employees will be up and running on day one with everything they need, and that when they leave your company, their secure accesses are instantly revoked, ensuring that your company remains secure throughout natural employee turnover.

The solutions that InSource offers through our partnership with Okta can work as stand-alone cloud-based security systems, or can prove a valuable expansion of your existing ServiceNow platform. As a preferred partner with both Okta and ServiceNow, InSource is uniquely positioned to maximize your ServiceNow capabilities.

Identity Management

Okta's cloud-based identity management platform offers Single sign-on (SSO) to securely manage all of your authentication needs. Okta utilizes Security Assertion Markup Language (SAML) for its multi-factor authentication, mitigating the risk of identity theft or other security breaches. The SSO capability not only keeps your company secure but also adds increased efficiency, as employees are only required to remember one user name and password combination. Because Okta's identity management platform is cloud-based, it allows for application access from anywhere. Okta strikes the perfect balance between ease of use and cloud adoption with security. Okta integrates seamlessly with any web based app, whether it's on-prem or in the cloud. With a platform as powerful and simple as this, it's no wonder it's the identity management of choice for companies like Coca Cola, Rosetta Stone, CBS, AutoTrader Group, and more.

Onboarding/Offboarding

Onboarding/offboarding presents a significant logistics and security challenge for most companies. Through the Okta onboarding/offboarding solution, fully integrated with the ServiceNow platform, your company gains the following advantages:

» Rapid, efficient onboarding process

» Acceleration of acquisition integrations

» Improved user productivity

» Offboarding security including revocation of all secure signons.
